U.N. Troops To Cross 38th Parallel If It Is Advisable

Red Chinese Make Defense At One Point

Put Up Battle North Of Uijongbu Near 38th Parallel

By LEE FERRERO
(U. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, March 25—(Sunday)—United Nations forces used bayonets and hand grenades to carve out 1,000 yard gains against a solid wall of Chinese Communists protecting the 38th Parallel north of Uijongbu Saturday.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur gave his Eighth Army troops a free hand to re-cross the controversial boundary, but in at least one sector the Red forces were making a firm stand.

American troops encountered firmly entrenched Reds in the rugged hills northeast and north of Uijongbu. The enemy put up strong resistance from caves and deep holes along the sides of the mountains. Uijongbu is 13 miles north of Seoul.

An assault commander said the Chinese were letting the Allied soldiers get within hand-grenade range of their holes before fighting.

"The only way to get them out is to dig them out with bayonets," he added.

Light Resistance Elsewhere Elsewhere along the front U.N. forces met only light enemy resistance as they continued to slash rear-guard elements remaining south of the parallel. Enemy casualties in Friday's fighting, during which paratroopers made their jump 20 miles north of Seoul, were estimated at 3,450 by the Eighth Army.

American paratroopers and rangers were hunting down the Seoul-Munsan road within eight miles of the parallel and to the east on the central front other Allied ground forces were within two and a quarter miles of the border.

KOREA—Enemy rear guards nearly 1,000 strong counter-attacked United Nations forces above Uijongbu (1) in desperate delaying action. Red forces entrenched in the hills above Uijongbu hold the only deep Communist salient in South Korea. Some 16 miles north-west, Patton tanks and paratroopers fanned out around Munsan (2) in search of North Koreans trying to flee the United States trap. Enemy appeared to be digging in for another rear-guard stand (jagged symbol) on the north bank of the Imjin river. It was believed the estimated 60,000 Reds manning defense-in-depth, north of Uijongbu, pulled back across the 38th parallel when outanked by the Allied drive up central Korea through Chunchon (3), 45 miles east of Seoul.

Says U.N. Can Now Drive Chinese Back To Manchuria

TOKYO, March 24—(INS)—The director of all British army training declared today the United Nations army in Korea now has the power to push the Chinese all the way back into Manchuria, discounting political considerations.

And he questioned how long the Chinese army could continue to fight a war in which its losses are extremely heavy and the United Nations losses are "negligible". Lt. Gen. Sir Richard Gale returned from an extensive Korean inspection tour and reported his old friend Gen. Matthew Ridgway has the initiative now and has "all the aces" on his side to maintain both the initiative and the advance.

Can Push Reds Back and Back Asked whether the Chinese would be able to form a defensive line anywhere in Korea that would be able to stem the UN offensive, Gale said:

"Ignoring the political considerations on the 38th parallel and the Manchurian border, and on the basis of the present width of the country, I see no reason why the Chinese shouldn't be pushed back and back and back."

"All the elements for advance are on Matt's side. He has the air and artillery necessary to support his advance." Gale praised Ridgway for resisting the temptation to exploit every communist weakness and push ahead as fast as he could, saying Ridgway's eighth army "is never getting tactically unbalanced."

Police Hold Youth For Shooting Boy In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, March 24—(INS)—Police today held a 17-year-old north side Pittsburgh boy who they said killed another boy and who allegedly made a slurring remark about his mother, Leonard Venson, 16, died at the Allegheny General hospital last night shortly after having been shot in the chest with a target pistol.

Police arrested Joseph Richards. Officers said the shooting was thought an accident until the dead boy's brother, Louis, 17, asked Richards in the presence of police: "Why did you shoot my brother? He didn't mean what he said."

Survivors Of Plane Crash Being Hunted

Reports Liferafts Are Sighted Spurs Search For 53 Persons

(BULLETIN)

SHANNON, Ireland, March 24—(INS)—A search pilot reported late today sighting possible liferafts from the U. S. Air Force Globemaster plane which presumably crashed early yesterday off the Irish Coast with 53 persons aboard.

The report to the London admiralty quoted the pilot as saying he saw "yellow things resembling light-colored rafts" about 300 miles off the south-western Irish Coast. The British submarine Thule and other surface ships were diverted to that area quickly.

SHANNON, Eire, March 24.—Rescue planes, army transports and a British submarine converged today on a wind-swept stretch of the Atlantic ocean off the Irish coast in search of possible survivors of a U. S. Air Force Globemaster which apparently crashed into the sea with 53 aboard.

A late check with Admiralty and U. S. Air Force spokesmen in London and at Shannon and with Royal Air Force stations at Uxbridge and Cambridge said there was no information to confirm reports that some survivors may have been picked up.

An earlier NBC broadcast quoted a report to the Admiralty that the first survivors have been taken aboard the army transport Gen. Muir. The broadcast said that additional life rafts were sighted 50 miles from the crash scene and (Continued on Page Seventeen)

Fair Weather Is Promised

National Forecast Is For Sunny Skies For Easter Sunday

WASHINGTON, March 24—(INS)—The weather bureau says the nation will have fair weather Easter Sunday with "mostly sunny skies" setting off holiday finery.

Temperatures, however, will be mild or seasonable. The special holiday advisory forecasts some cloudy weather along the coast in the far north-west and in the states near the northern Great Lakes.

Outer coats will be practical in the northeast but in the north central states the mercury will be higher in the thermometer.

Seasonable temperatures will prevail in northwestern states, the bureau says, and will be a little above normal in the southern half of the country.

Probe Causes Start Of Check On Taxes Paid

NEW YORK, March 24—(INS)—An outgrowth of the Kefauver hearings, agents of the intelligence unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue began checking income tax returns and supporting data filed in Brooklyn by O'Dwyer, James J. Moran, O'Dwyer's friend who resigned Thursday as New York water commissioner at the demand of Mayor Vincent Impellitteri, and Brooklyn Republican leader John R. Crews.

John P. Crane, president of the Unemployed Firemen's association, told the committee he had given former Mayor O'Dwyer $10,000—presumably as a campaign contribution—Moran $55,000 and Crews $3,500, also as a presumed political contribution.

Deny Receiving Money O'Dwyer insisted that he received nothing from Crane, and the conflicting testimony has been certified by Sen. Kefauver to the Justice department for possible perjury proceedings. Moran, a $15,000 a year lifetime post, also made a denial.

At Albany Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Republican leader of the New York state Senate, said he will head a joint legislative committee which will investigate all phases of horse racing, including off-track betting.

The inquiry, Wicks said, will start about May 15.

Deplores Fate Of Germans Held Under Red Rule

Korea Peace Revised Plan Is Considered

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 24—(INS)—Western spokesmen say that a revised plan for a negotiated peace in Korea is being considered at the United Nations.

The spokesman said that the plan adheres to the principle of a free and independent Korea and added that it may be submitted soon to Mao Tse-Tung, premier of Communist China, as a basis for ending the shooting war.

The informants indicate that final drafting of the blueprint and a decision on making it public are key to military developments in Korea, especially consolidation of positions at or beyond the 38th parallel by U. N. forces.

The revised plan omits mention of an occupation of North Korea by U. N. forces but provides for application of the principle of self-determination in an envisioned Plebiscite.

Western powers make it clear that they will resist a repetition of the peace-making efforts of last year when the Asian-Arab bloc dictated the procedure. Now, they say, new moves must be left to the U. N. members whose combat troops and affiliated units are in Korea.

'Drop Zone' Is Being Expanded

Red Artillery Blasts At Locality Taken Over By Paratroopers

By IRWIN TREES
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE 187TH AIRBORNE REGIMENT NEAR MUNSAN, KOREA, March 25—(Sunday)—Communist artillery blasted away at the little piece of Korean property the parachute boys seized for the United Nations yesterday but rangers and paratroopers continued to expand the so-called "drop zone."

Rangers patrolled to the Imjin river and airdropped artillery blasted back at Communist batteries somewhere on the north bank.

From the south, convoys rolled over the Munsan-Seoul road bringing more troops, food, guns, ammunition and morale with them every hour.

And on the road, which I traveled today, North Korean soldiers popped up every now and then with their hands in the air to surrender to Americans or ROK troops passing by in jeeps and trucks.

GEN. MacARTHUR WOULD TALK PEACE

—Acme Telephoto

TOKYO, JAPAN—General Douglas MacArthur (right) announced upon his return from a flying trip to Korea that he was willing to meet in the field with the top Communist commander to discuss a possible means of ending hostilities in Korea. If MacArthur's proposition is accepted he would possibly meet with Chinese General Lin Piao (left). Lin is commander of the 4th Chinese field army.

Gen. MacArthur Stands Ready To Talk Peace

Also Reveals U.N. Forces To Cross 38th Parallel If Advisable

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, U. N. S.)

TOKYO, March 24.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur made a flying trip to Korea today and ordered his United Nations forces to cross the 38th Parallel if and when security makes such a crossing advisable.

Before leaving for Korea, MacArthur said he "stands ready" to meet Red China's commander-in-chief in the field to bring about a settlement of the war.

Upon his return to Tokyo he smiled when asked if he had met the enemy commander and said: "There was no contact."

In regard to the 38th Parallel, MacArthur placed a possible crossing purely in the field of military tactics.

He said: "No further comment would seem to be necessary with reference to the 38th Parallel, the status of which has been so thoroughly discussed in recent statements from Washington, London and other capitals."

No Military Significance "As a matter of fact it has never had any military significance. Our naval and air forces cross it at will and ground forces have done so in the past."

"I have directed the Eighth Army to do so again if and when security makes it tactically advisable."

MacArthur's statement was issued as Allied ground forces were attempting with some difficulty to maintain contact with fleeing Red troops at several points near Parallel 38.

The supreme commander said the "bulk of organized Communists" have been cleared from South Korea by Allied forces which were striking at points within three miles of the boundary.

In his invitation to the Red commander-in-chief to meet him in the field to effect a military settlement, MacArthur said the enemy should be "painfully aware" the Allies could attack China itself—a move which he said "would doom" the Communist-controlled nation.

Enemy Not Able To Hold International News Service War Correspondent Don A. Schanche quoted MacArthur as saying: "The enemy does not seem to be (Continued on Page Two)

Easter Church Services To Attract Throngs On Sunday

The age old resurrection story as found in the Gospels will resound again and again Sunday—Easter, 1951, as residents of all walks of life, from the youngest to the oldest, will flock to the district churches to worship Him whom the tomb could not hold.

Expect Large Crowds Barring bad weather, New Castle and Lawrence county churches should be filled on Sunday with reverent worshippers as they attend special services which will commemorate the event of over 19 and half centuries ago which took place on a bleak Palestinian hill.

Audiences attending especially prepared services on Easter Sunday will lend color to the meetings as the beauty of the cut flowers blend with the brightly colored garments worn by worshippers.

While local ministers will speak of the scene enacted at Joseph's tomb, recalling anew the words of the angel "He is risen," many minds will be centered on loved ones serving in Korea or elsewhere as the fight to maintain the peace of the world.

Film Figures Facing Arrest

Threat Made To Secure Warrants For Nine Witnesses

HOLLYWOOD, March 24—(INS)—Warrants for the arrest of Hollywood film figures who for two weeks assertedly have evaded subpoenas calling upon them to appear before the House Un-American Activities Committee were threatened today by the United States Marshal.

Marshal James J. Boyle said that nine "missing witnesses" are being sought by deputy marshals. He said they will ask for arrest warrants if he is convinced missing witnesses are hiding out from the marshal's office.

Screen writer Paul Jarrico surrendered voluntarily yesterday.

Missing Witnesses Boyle named the still missing witnesses as Actress Karen Morley, Hugo Butler and Fred Rinaldo, writers, and Lew Solomon, Michael Uris, Georgia Backus Alexander, Jack Berry, Leonardo Bercovici and Edward Huebsch.

Meanwhile, a California State Senate report issued in 1949 was made timely with the statement by Actor Larry Parks that he quit the Communist party in 1945. It said Parks as late as 1948 was fronting for Red causes.

Big Four Deputies Make Little Progress

PARIS, March 24—(INS)—Big Four deputies conferred today for two hours and 25 minutes on the question of Trieste and an Austrian peace treaty but reached no agreement.

The deputies seek to formulate an agenda for a conference of foreign ministers will meet again at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Russia stood pat on insisting that the Trieste question be linked with an Austrian peace treaty.

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko took the occasion to launch another tirade against alleged western aggressive plans. He cited the recent announcement of President Truman regarding the strength of American armed forces which has been doubled since the outbreak of war in Korea.

Fear Witness In Gangland Trials Slain

NEW YORK, March 24—(INS)—A thorny "Duke" Maffettore, gangland chauffeur on one-way rides whose testimony helped send the chief of murder incorporated and three of its triggermen to the chair, has disappeared and authorities fear he may have been knocked off.

The 37-year-old Maffettore, cited by former Mayor William O'Dwyer in testimony to the Kefauver committee as an informer, is being hunted for jumping $5,000 bail in an auto theft charge.

He was scheduled to appear in court March 7, five days before the Senate Crime Investigating committee opened its public hearings in New York.

Gave Testimony The dapper Maffettore, who once shared "songbirds' suite" in Coney Island's Half Moon hotel with the late Abe Reles, testified against Louis "Lepke" Buchalter, murder incorporated chief who died in Sing Sing's electric chair. ### New Wage Hikes Are Scheduled

Cost Of Living Increase Causes Boost In Wages

By FELIX T. COTTEN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 24—A new boost in the cost of living signalled wage hikes for millions of American workers today and put the government in the position of threatening its own controls program.

The Labor Department announced that between January 15 and February 15 its cost of living index rose 1.3 percent—mostly because of food prices—and hit an all-time high on the basis of its 1936-39 statistical comparison. More than a million non-operating railway brotherhood members stand to get a six to nine cents an hour boost out of the index rise—this comes under a government-blessed contract which includes a basic pay hike that adds to more than the ten percent rise in wages sanctioned by defense mobilizers.

Another arm of the government announced meanwhile that 25 percent of the rubber tires now going to auto makers will be delivered into defense channels in the next four months.

EXPECTS LIGHT SENTENCE CHICAGO, March 24—(INS)—A 35-year-old war veteran who admitted embezzling $9,327 while serving as state vehicle commissioner in Wildwood, N. J., appears at extraordinary hearings today in Chicago.

Harry Keating, Jr., indicated he will not fight extradition because he expects a light sentence when he gets back to his native state. "I've got too much on the politicians in New Jersey," he said.

Keating was arrested yesterday on a tip from New Jersey authorities. He said he took the money—paid him for license plates—and lost it all on horse races.

Each day at noon the solons meet around the luncheon table and settle problems large and small, in language loud and able. The policies of government are met and settled quickly, they know the cure for businesses that turn up wan and sickly, the A-bomb or the price of eggs, the tides up there at Fundy; they settle little things like that beginning every Monday. Of course when lunch is over and the boys are on their way, the problems still loom as they did. It's thirty-four today.

Just about every kind of weather in the calendar has been experienced in the last 24 hours. Yesterday was most balmy, the temperature getting up to 65 degrees. At midnight, an electric storm swept over the area, followed by high winds, with the mercury dipping down to the freezing point this morning, accompanied by snow.

Due to favorable weather, Good Friday services for the most part were well attended in the city on Friday. Three services were conducted during the day, with many evening programs presented ending with the communion observance.

part in the well planned program as they swell forth the story of the risen Christ.

Hours of service will vary in the various churches of the district with sunrise service opening many Easter programs of the Protestant churches. The early services will begin in some instances at 5 a.m., others at 5:30 and 6, while most of the early rising services will begin at 6:30 a.m. A number of churches have planned breakfasts in the church dining rooms as a climax to the early morning events.

The morning worship hour program following Sunday school are expected to be the featured services of the day. Many new members will be admitted to the churches, it is anticipated.

In the Catholic churches, special Holy Week devotions were conducted on Holy Thursday and Good Friday, climaxing the end of the Lenten season which occurred at noon today. Solemn high and low masses of thanksgiving will be celebrated in all of the Catholic churches on Easter Sunday morning, commemorating the glorious Resurrection of The Lord. Holy Communion will be distributed at all of the Holy masses.

If good weather should be on the program, the usual Easter parade will be seen on New Castle's "Fifth avenue"—East Washington street. Although the day will be marked in various ways, New Castle, along with men and women of all nations will not forget the Christ of the tomb whose miraculous resurrection is hailed by all the world.

RED CHINESE MAKE DEFENSE AT ONE POINT

the liberated capital and reported upon his return to Tokyo:

"Everything goes well at the front."

MacArthur asserted that the 38th Parallel has "never had any military significance" and pointed out that Allied air and navy forces as well as ground troops disregarded the border last year.

He added:

"I have directed the Eighth Army to do so again if and when security makes it tactically advisable."

South Korea Cleared

MacArthur reported that the Eighth Army has "substantially cleared South Korea of organized Communist forces."

Communist forces were continuing to withdraw all along the waist of Korea in the face of devastating Allied ground fire and air strikes.

Enemy forces estimated at about 25,000 men were caught flatfooted Friday by the paratroop landing north of Seoul—made by the American 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

Battle-wise ranger units, jumping along with the airborne troops, dispersed Red troops entrenched two miles northeast of the jump zone.

Many North Korean troops in the jump zone about 20 miles north of Seoul were panic-stricken by the thrust from the sky and fled northward without putting up any resistance.

An Allied armored patrol closed a vice on Red troops with a 20-mile dash north from Seoul to link up with the paratroops.

The Communists appeared to be offering strong resistance only in the remote east-central sector in the vicinity of Hangye. American troops found their path blocked by North Koreans seven miles northeast of Hangye.

On the central front, American First Cavalry troops swept through the mountains above Chunchon, former enemy base, and reached points within two and a quarter miles of Parallel 38.

About 15 miles northeast of Seoul Turkish troops smashed Chinese defenses and won two hills.

Uijongbu, road junction 13 miles north of Seoul, was captured Friday by an American armored task force. Uijongbu lies on the classic invasion route from North Korea.

The surprise paratroop operation Friday was supported from the air by the greatest number of sorties flown by Allied planes since the Korean War started June 25th.

The Far East Air Force announced that its planes flew a record number of 1,220 sorties. This exceeded the previous high of 1,123 on March 16.

Transports air-lifted more than 1,700 tons of cargo in support of the paratroopers. Howitzers, jeeps and other heavy equipment were air-dropped.

Truman Family Plans For Quiet Easter Observance

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(INS)—The Truman family is planning a quiet Easter.

A presidential spokesman said Mr. Truman, the First Lady and their daughter, Margaret, will observe the holiday very simply at Blair House.

The first family does not plan to have any house guests over the Easter weekend.

The president, along with his wife and daughter, will undoubtedly attend church services but whether they will go together or separately is not yet known.

able to hold or make a real effort. His supply lines have been so heavily pounded he does not seem to be able to get enough stuff up to the front to make a real effort."

MacArthur jeered to Uijongbu within mortar range of enemy lines.

During his trip to Korea—his fourteenth since the conflict started last June MacArthur spent four hours on the ground touring Seoul and the area to the north.

MacArthur's personal pilot, Lt. Col. Anthony Story after landing the general's Constellation flew over the supreme commander's motorcade in a helicopter to maintain a security watch. Story reported there was considerable enemy mortar and sniper fire just off the route which MacArthur took. Maj. Gen. Earl E. Partridge, Fifth Air Force chief, took a turn at the controls of the helicopter.

Everything Goes Well

In Seoul which MacArthur last visited in October he talked at length with UN officers at command posts.

Story landed MacArthur's personal plane, Scap, at the Seoul City Airport on an island in the Han river at 10:49 a.m. and took off for the return flight just four hours later.

MacArthur landed at Tokyo's Haneda Airport at 5:30 p.m. (3:30 a.m. EST) and read a statement from typewritten cards.

He said:

"Everything goes well at the front. All elements of our forces are in fine spirit and fettle. The enemy's supply lines are taking

Goodrich Co., reported today that Municipal Fire Departments have increased considerably their purchasing of new fire hose in an effort to bring their facilities to a level of maximum efficiency and protection. He said the cities are buying top grade hose, whereas during World War II, much of the fire hose bought for civilian defense was an emergency grade.

Century-Old Easter Egg Is Exhibited At Town In Ohio

NEW PHILA DELPHIA, O., March 24.—(INS)—A century-old Easter egg is capturing the attention of New Philadelphia townspeople today.

The egg was colored brown with onion skins by Jonathan S. Winsch, a pioneer Moravian farmer, who scratched out a rose-petal design and the date "1851" at his home in Gnadenhuetten near Dover.

His daughter, Maria, thought the Easter finery too pretty to eat and gave it to a niece who in turn handed it down to her daughter and current owner, Mrs. Roger Crites.

Mrs. Crites says she thinks her egg is the second oldest in the country. She said that after newspapers across the country printed stories on the 99th birthday of the egg, a woman from New Jersey wrote of an egg she had dating back to the 1830's.

Mrs. Crites, wife of the postmaster in Tuscarawas, says Moravian worshippers at Dover still follow the custom of having brass bands take part in Easter morning sunrise services at Gnadenhuetten and Schoenbrunn in Ohio.

Originally, says Mrs. Crites, the bands marched through the villages making sure everybody got up in time for the service.

The Moravian religion is a Protestant faith founded in Germany by John Huss.

FAITH TRIUMPHANT

Easter is the feast of faith triumphant. The angel's announcement "He is risen!" has echoed joyously down the centuries as affirmation of the Christian faith in the resurrected Saviour.

It is a tremendous thing, that faith: Strong in adversity, unyielding under persecution, something to lean upon and to cherish in a world of cruelties and uncertainties. It is something to thank God for, the Easter day.

The celebration of Easter has this great meaning: Golgotha was not to be the end, but only the beginning. The words "It is finished," spoken from the Cross, marked the determination of the Passion. The glory of the resurrection was still to come.

The figure in shining garments who met the affrighted women of Galilee at the front of the empty sepulchre was no angel of death. He talked of life. "He is risen," he told them. "He is not here."

The tomb had not won. The torturers and the executioners had not won. Out of the sepulchre where they had laid His broken body came the risen Christ. Out of death came life everlasting.

That is the exalted theme of Easter Sunday, blest with the Immortal Presence. Those who do not grasp it and take spiritual nourishment and consolation from it miss the real significance of the Feast—just as the disciples on the road to Emmaus, when the Lord first appeared before them, knew Him not.

Mortal vision is not needed to find the risen Christ. Only faith.

MENDING SICK HEARTS

Still in what has to be regarded as a developmental stage, which makes it too early to draw widespread conclusions, there does, it is revealed, exist an operation to repair diseased hearts. That holds out new hope for persons with diseased coronary arteries, fatalities from which exceed those from cancer.

The new operation was explained to the New York Heart Association by Dr. Claude S. Beck, professor of neurology at Western Reserve University School of Medicine. It is being performed on patients suffering from ailments of these arteries, which furnish blood to the heart muscle.

The problem that faced the researchers was to get blood into the heart by a new "pipeline," removing the burden on the diseased arteries. To do it a vein taken from the patient's arm was grafted onto the aorta, the trunk which distributes blood from the heart throughout the body. The other end of this vein is grafted to the "spare part" vein in the heart.

On the basis of 23 operations in Cleveland, the home of Western Reserve, Professor Beck was reluctant to indulge in generalities as to their effectiveness. Advanced cases of diseased coronary arteries cannot stand the operation, it is frankly conceded, but the first 11 operated upon had "extensive" heart disease. The 12 other operations were upon patients without enlargement of the heart or high blood pressure.

In the 23 cases there has been but one fatality. Another year, which will, of course, include study of the progress made by patients who have submitted to the operation, should give some more definite indication of what can be expected.

The hope is held out—there cannot be any assurance yet—that this operation can be the means, if taken in time, of preventing ultimate death from heart disease of from 90 to 95 per cent of those who undergo it. It required five years of research and animal experimentation to reach the point where human beings could be operated on with safety. Years more must elapse, if time demonstrates the operation's success, before it can be in general application. But there is in it the hope of vast relief to suffering humanity.

NEW ATTACK ON EPIDEMICS

The Navy is keeping a close watch over its latest venture—an epidemic control laboratory installed aboard a landing ship and equipped to cope with outbreaks of contagious diseases.

The vessel has just arrived in Korea waters and has been designated "Fleet Epidemic Control Unit One."

In co-operation with the new unit's work, the Navy plans to send eight vehicles, equipped with insect-killing power sprayers and drainage ditch gear, to any port or beach where disease threatens.

It was recalled that there have been stories out of Korea recently that some Red Chinese troops were withdrawn from action due to heavy disease casualties—some of which were said to be typhus victims.

At any rate, the United Nations forces will be well protected from any such epidemics.

Russia, as a nation, is over 500 years old. But she certainly doesn't seem to act her age.

California's condors are disappearing. The big birds should take a lesson on how to survive from some of our downtown pigeons.

Those flying saucers we've been observing, says a naval physicist, are just balloons being used in the study of cosmic rays. Could be—since discussion about 'em has reached cosmic proportions.

Western Hemisphere Conference

Delegates from Latin America are streaming into Washington today for next week's conference of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers and optimists are hoping for a real demonstration of new world solidarity.

It seems quite likely, however, that a number of problems may arise that will require very skillful diplomatic handling. It cannot be truthfully said that all of the Latin American states see exactly eye to eye with the United States on all policy questions.

Atmosphere Clouded
Furthermore, the atmosphere has been clouded by the action of Argentine Dictator Juan Peron in suppressing and confiscating his greatest opponent, the independent newspaper La Prensa, since its beginning a thorn in the side of usurpers and tyrants.

The Argentines are fully cognizant of the indignation caused in the United States by the throttling of La Prensa. Officially, they take the view that La Prensa was in effect a conspiracy against the Peron regime—a conspiracy applauded if not actually supported by the American press.

This in itself may create some embarrassing moments. Many Latin American newspapers, voicing the views of their governments and people, also have criticized the closing of La Prensa and the incident is certain to bulk large in everyone's mind during the Washington meeting.

Then there is the United States course of action in the Korean conflict.

Enjoying Prosperity
Some of the Latin American states are enjoying unprecedented prosperity and they want to avoid another war at almost any cost.

Their almost dramatic "will to peace" has been demonstrated by the series of carnivals that have taken place in recent months and the attractive lures being held out to tourists.

The annual carnival in Rio de Janeiro unquestionably the roughest in history. More than 30 persons lost their lives and thousands were arrested as the Brazilians let off steam and for three days proceeded to forget there were any woes in the world at all.

Cuba, Haiti and many other countries had their celebrations also. Argentina staged the Pan American Olympics, spending huge sums and lifting many entry and travel restrictions in an effort to attract visitors and try to show them that life in Argentina is lively and pleasant.

There was a certain element of escapism about these carnivals. They made it evident that the people as a whole want the world to remain in a state where carnivals are not only possible but almost

EATING WITH FAMILY GOOD EXPERIENCE

Where there are several children over two, something is to be said in favor of having the youngsters seated for a meal at a low table. They can sit there comfortably. This plan may be the more desirable if there are several adults as dinner guests.

On the other hand, there are big items on the credit side when the youngsters are in their chairs and the adults conduct themselves properly, sit at the family board. Even the child under two or three, sitting in the high chair and eating with the family, can look about and hear and see what is going on. He can feel he is a part of the family circle better than he could at a low table.

Long Table
Last summer when, for a short while, our eleven grandchildren and some of their parents were all with us for a week part of them much longer, we ate our meals around a long extension table, the grandchildren among us. The eldest child was eleven. Two about two years of age sat in high chairs.

As a rule, the youngsters were not allowed to get down until their main meal had ended. Any one who begged to get down and walk about was asked to do so with the clear understanding he could not return. Occasionally, a child decided he did not want dessert, choosing rather to go and play. The older children by two took turns in clearing the table before dessert. All the children soon adapted themselves to this procedure and gained good practice in self-control. They were of interest to talk about things of course, aimed to talk about things of interest to the children and to encourage each child to participate in the conversation.

Adult Guests
There are times when the family meal moves slowly, as when adult guests are present, when the youngsters from two to five grow noticeably weary, and he should be allowed to get down and walk about as a reward later. But if this happens often, especially where there are several children, the youngsters may grow excited and jittery and create considerable commotion. Within reasonable limits, the youngster should usually remain at the table until he has finished eating what he wants. There certainly should be some regulation of such matters. For each youngster to get down from the table often during a regular family meal just to run about is hardly good education for him. Where there are several children there can be great confusion, when a calm and serene dinner period hardly can be had.

All this presupposes that each child has learned to enjoy his meals, the adults not nagging at him about eating and table manners, but all persons enjoying one another in a happy, relaxing family atmosphere.

mandatory as part of life that has room for occasional gaiety.

Subject Of Coffee
Then there is the unrelated subject of coffee.

Brazil and other coffee-producing nations are indignant over charges in the United States that a monopolistic combine has been created to keep prices at an unjustifiably high level. Coffee is of such great importance to the whole hemisphere from the viewpoints of production and consumption that it is certain to find at least unofficial place on the Washington agenda.

Furthermore, all Latin American nations are determined that effective measures must be taken to ensure that their national economies are not disrupted by United States war production and mobilization.

The allocation of raw materials will have priority in discussion and so will the unrestricted flow of trade. Defense preparations thus far have benefited the Latin American economy. Chemicals and nitrates in huge volume are war essentials; the leather products of agrarian nations are finding their way into military equipment.

Most observers feel that the main task of the United States delegation will be to strike a balance that takes into consideration such imponderables as prestige and pride as well as assistance to underdeveloped areas under the Point 4 program.

Latin Americans cannot tolerate being patronized. They will make their voices heard in Washington and it is a fair assumption that the word "equality" will be spoken many hundred times before the final gavel falls.

Just Folks

LIFE AT THREE

Now he scampers round the place;

Never slows a single step.
Walking's much too slow a pace;
As they say it: "Folks at three!"
"Careful!" mother softly calls.
That it seems he cannot be.
"Upsy-daisy," when he falls.
Life's like that when you are three.

Doesn't say it, but it's plain
When there's so much to be done

Who would all the pleasure gain
From the daytime, has to run.
Watching him I've often guessed
Surely this his thought must be:
"It's a waste of time to rest!"
Life's like that when you are three.

Keep up with him? No, not I.
If I could, 'twas long ago.
Foolish now I'd be to try
Such vitality to show.
Round the place he goes pell-mell.
Never out of breath is he.
Every hour exciting! Well,
Life's like that when you are three.

State Police Say:

A driver may brush aside a traffic law now and then, but he'd be less likely to if he knew the good reasons behind the law. Traffic regulations are the result of clear conditions and should be regarded as regulatory rather than prohibitory. If certain acts committed by a large number of motorists are dangerous to the welfare of the general public, then regulations are given the force of law so that the public may be protected.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Tomorrow will be a beautiful day . . . and to tell the story we find nothing more appropriate than the Legend of the Dogwood Tree . . . an article that has been reprinted many hundreds of times . . . an article that we have used for our Easter Story for the past few years . . . For all our friends on this Beautiful Easter we give you the following:

THE LEGEND OF THE DOGWOOD TREE

At the time of the Crucifixion, the dogwood attained the size of the oak and other forest trees, strong and firm was the wood it was chosen as the timber of the Cross.

To be thus used for such a cruel purpose greatly distressed the tree and Jesus, nailed upon it, sensed this and in gentle pity for all sorrow, said to it: "Because of your regret and pity for my suffering, I make you this promise: Never again shall the dogwood tree grow large enough to be used for a Cross. Henceforth it shall be slender and shall be bent and twisted, and its blossoms shall be in the form of a cross—two long and two short petals.

"And in the center of the outer edge of each petal, there will be nail prints. And in the center of the flower, brown with rust and stained with blood, will be a crown of thorns—so that all who see it will remember it was upon a dogwood tree that I was crucified, and this tree shall not be mutilated nor destroyed, but cherished and protected as a reminder of My agony and death upon the Cross."

Progress In Rebuilding Defenses

WASHINGTON, March 24.—In spite of all the clamor and confusion and conflict the job of rebuilding America's defenses is being done. That is the meaning of the figures just released which show nearly $20 billions now committed in firm contracts for major equipment and for the expansion of production facilities.

It has taken an enormous amount of pushing, pulling, prodding and downright bludgeoning to begin to get appropriated money translated into weapons of defense. But the results are beginning to show up in a startling way. In the first 20 days of January more contracts were placed for the army than in the previous six months.

Complicated Process
How complicated this process is can be judged from the fact that there are more than 350,000 classifications of things to be ordered. That is classifications, let it be stressed; the number of individual items runs over 10,000,000.

For the first time the two men who have been directing the pushing, pulling, prodding and bludgeoning feel that the load is being gotten under control. They are the Secretary of Defense, General George C. Marshall, and the Under Secretary, Robert A. Lovett. Together they have welded a highly effective team with the know-how that the job takes.

The going often has been rough. One of the most difficult problems has been to get wool for uniforms. A conflict over the ceiling price got in the way of contracts. Then came a strike of several weeks in the woolen industry. Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg, in charge of manpower, moved into the situation with the energy that characterizes her. A wage increase was tentatively agreed on which seemed to promise an end to the walkout.

No Stabilization Board
This has to be taken to the wage stabilization board for approval. But there was no stabilization board, the labor members having resigned in resentment of what they insist is big-business domination of the mobilization setup. Finally, however, the strike was settled and contracts for the all-important wools were let.

One of the great headaches has been the damaging inflation occurring since last June. Lovett estimates that roughly two out of every 10 items sought in the rearmament program have been knocked out by an inflationary price rise of about 20 percent.

In getting the vast program under way almost everything was started from scratch. For all practical purposes there was no munitions board. Political dry rot had eaten into the defense structure.

Steady Flow Of Arms
From the beginning General Marshall's objective has been to produce a steady flow of arms over a sustained period of time. He has worked for the kind of expansion that would produce tanks and planes off an assembly line that could be doubled or tripled very quickly in the event of all-out war. From past experience Marshall felt strongly that merely to build so many thousands of tanks and store them was a wrong and wasteful way to do the job. That is, as Marshall saw it, would be to repeat the unhappy feast-and-famine cycle which in the past has proved so costly.

The general has had several bitter lessons in the volatile nature of American public opinion. Only last December Congress was actually pushing on the defense department far more than could conceivably have been useful. The Chinese intervention in the Korean war had produced almost a panic fear.

All-Out War Footing?

There were cries for putting the nation on an all-out war footing. Governor Dewey and others were calling for 100 divisions to be put into uniform at once. It was clear to those who had been through it before that any such precipitate action would have produced dislocations in the economy so serious that the whole rearmament effort would have been hurt rather than helped.

At that time General Marshall made a prophecy. He predicted that by September of 1951 the tide of opinion would again have changed. As present events show, he was somewhat optimistic. The talk is again of economy and this can have the most serious implications for the future, since what has been done thus far is a start, a beginning, rather than a job done. Soon Congress will be asked for a third supplemental defense appropriation for the current fiscal year. The request, partly because of inflation, probably will be for more than the $10 billion previously suggested as the figure.

Of course, Congress should give this the most careful scrutiny for possible economies. But quiet apart from such an essential survey, this request can serve as a test of American intentions and American determination. Arbitrary meat-axe economy will be notice to the world that we have relaxed again into something like the old complacency.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A London magazine printed a new twist on that hoary tale of the society leader who asked the C.O. of a nearby military post to send over a few young men to round out one of her dinner parties. On this particular occasion, the two chaps who turned up were presentable enough physically, but were mere corporals. The hostess angrily requested them to eat with the servants.

Next morning, she phoned the C.O. and demanded to know why he had sent such lowly personages to her party. "Lowly?" laughed the C.O. "One of them was an earl and the other a viscount." "What a ghastly mistake," she stammered. "Will you please make my apologies, and ask them to call again?"

They did. They went to the back door and took her two maids to the movies.

The young man obviously was embarrassed. He explained lamely, "I'm supposed to bring home either a casserole or a cansole. I can't remember which." "That dilemma is easily resolved," chuckled the erudite storekeeper. "Is the chicken dead or alive?"

Old Fashioned Easter

By PAUL GALLICO

Well, of course, we don't know exactly what kind of Easter Sunday this is going to be, but one thing is certain, it won't be the old-fashioned kind of Easter I used to know when I was a kid. It never is. Time gallops on.

But it doesn't hurt to think about it, or remember back what an important day Easter was because it might just so happen that on that day one might acquire a specimen of livestock.

Do store windows still feature a whole mess of golden fluffy little chicks just out of the egg, picking and scratching away, and in another section, real live rabbits? In my day they did. And come the approach of Easter you could always find the young and not entirely prepossessing Gallico with his nose pressed up against the show window pane craving either a chicken or a rabbit, and hoping against hope that he might be going to get one.

Stores Kept Selling Them

If it wasn't too practical then to try to raise domestic fowl in a city apartment, or furnished rooms, which was what we occupied on the top floor of a boarding house, it will be even less so now which is probably just as well for the animals in question. But at least one could hope to possess one in my day and I darned well knew there were some rich kids getting them, because the stores kept selling them.

I suppose what I regret the most is that that was the age of innocence when I was not yet aware that the soft and enticing baby chicks would grow up to be the silliest, coldest and most un-pet-like birds in the world, and that rabbits are not the brightest or most companionable animals in existence. I know this now. I wish I didn't. I wish I craved one again. Or that I wanted a baby duck this Easter. And that somebody would give me one.

My father would do the best he could. Come Easter Sunday, I would get a baby chick, or duck, all right but it would be daid, stuffed and mounted on cardboard with wire. On the bottom of the cardboard it would say "MADE IN JAPAN," and it would smell faintly moth-y and musty like the furs of the old ladies who used to come and call on my mother. They were pathetic chicks, scragged in the bloom of youth, so to speak, and embalmed to make an American Easter, but they were soft and strokable, and in lieu of the live ones, the next best thing, I suppose.

Composition Easter Egg

Well, then in my day we used to have a kind of a glass or composition Easter egg, all trimmed and furbelowed, and it had an aperture at one end containing a small lens. When you applied your eye to this and held it up to the light, darned if you didn't see a picture inside, some kind of an Easter scene, usually a chromo of little children playing with rabbits or eggs. Do they still have those today?

I know there are chocolate Easter eggs, at least in Paris, for that is where I was last Easter, and believe me, I had a big one, but when I was a kid at the turn of the century they used to make hens out of some kind of burned, brown-sugar candy or molasses, trimmed with pink or white frosting. The candy hen would be sitting on a nest of dyed-green excelsior or shredded tissue paper in which there would be a mess of jelly beans, or other kind of small candy egg.

Easter Memory

We also had chocolate eggs and chickens and rabbits, but somehow the brown-molasses hen outlined in white sugar remains my old-fashioned Easter memory. We always had one and I was never allowed to eat it at once, a form of torture for small boys which may be out-moded today. I understand that today small boys do about what they please so that there shall be no danger of a neurosis setting in. My hen constituted temptation which must be resisted. One could look and sniff, but no touch. It smelled heavenly. And eventually the day did come when it was breached and devoured by installments which was in a way a pity too, for it was a finely sculptured article and my first contact with this branch of art.

The Easter Rabbit was a kind of minor deity around our house, not to be compared with Santa Claus in vigor and excitement, but nevertheless believed in as someone who came at Easter time and left presents of eggs and things of candy, a sort of pre-Harvey, for in my imagination those days, the Easter Rabbit loomed as a very large fellow indeed. Also from this, I became convinced at an early age that rabbits laid eggs and it took me a long time to accept the truth. In fact, I am not too sure I have yet.

Easter was a dress-up day, and dinner was in the middle of the day instead of in the evening as usual. And invariably there was the hunt for what the faithful, visiting Easter Rabbit had hidden away, and this was the most exciting of all. And just between you and me, if you won't give me away to my public, we still have egg and present hunts around our house on Easter Sunday, the little helpmeet and I, because we like it and it makes a childlike and happy Easter for us. And the same to you.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDELS

Everybody is kicking about inflation. Everybody is complaining about high prices.

But nobody is doing anything practical about it. Yet the solution is so simple that in four weeks prices could be made to come down to where they ought to be.

Who could do it? You and I.

All over the country professional and amateur economists are sitting around conference tables with poised pencils and furrowed brows trying to find a way out of this ever increasing spiral.

Many women's clubs, P.T.A.s, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Elks, Eagles and Masons have high prices and inflation on their agenda.

Many of these clubs discuss the problem at their luncheon meetings.

I have sat in on quite a few of them.

What do you think they serve at these luncheons? Goodly portions of the very meat about the price of which they complain.

Butter, coffee, cream—those very commodities about which they ineffectively debate.

They orate and figure and scribble and complain, but they never seem to think of the one and the ONLY remedy that would really be effective—TO STOP BUYING AT HIGH PRICES.

I ran into a woman who had just come from a P.T.A. meeting and was doing her shopping in one of our local stores.

She looked indignant. "What's wrong?" I asked her. "Oh, those prices they charge are outrageous! We just had a discussion about them at our meeting. Most of us just simply can't afford to keep this up much longer."

What do you think she had in that shopping bag of hers? A thick steak for which she had paid $1.25 a pound. Two dozen grade A eggs at 71 cents a dozen. A pound of butter at 83 cents. A pint of cream at 39 cents.

There were many more articles in that bag—all bought at outrageous prices.

Washington has raised ceiling prices on automobiles.

Will that make people hold on to their old cars another year or two?

Not if they are like a fellow in our neighborhood.

His 1942 car is in perfect mechanical condition. He paid around $1,400 for it. But, unfortunately, the Joneses next door have a 1950 car which is much shinier and more modern looking. And if the Joneses have a 1951 model. Else, what would people think? So he'll pay about $1,900 for a new car of the same make he has now.

The remedy for high prices is NOT BUYING AT THOSE PRICES.

But that takes a little sacrifice, a little self-denial.

When, during the last war, the Government inflicted meatless days upon us we went without meat whether we liked it or not. But would we dream of meatless, eggless, butterless, automobileless days voluntarily? We would not.

That's the solution—So put up or shut up!

Strip Mining Operations In County Increase

Strip mining of coal in Lawrence county is proving big business, according to the most recent report of such operations just released to The News by the Central Pennsylvania Open Pit Mining Association.

Lawrence county's 1950 total of coal strip mined amounted to 365,095 tons or an increase of 229,000 tons over 1949. In comparison, only 32,378 tons of deep mined coal were produced in this county in 1950 or 7,000 tons greater than in 1949.

Total tonnage of coal mined in this county, both strip and deep mined amounted to 397,473 tons in 1950, while the total for 1949 was 162,365 in both operations. The strip mines in Lawrence county employed 93 in 1950 while in 1949 the total employment was only 43.

Other County Reports
In comparison, nearby Mercer county lifted from the ground by strip operations 338,095 tons in 1950 and 169,874 tons by deep mine work in the same year. Lawrence county's strip mine yield over Mercer county in the last year was 26,226 tons greater.

Butler county removed 2,152,849 tons by strip mining in 1950 with her deep mine production being 591,730 tons. Beaver county's strip mine operations yielded 335,395 tons in 1950.

The overall picture for the state of Pennsylvania showed that 25,464,635 tons of strip mine coal were produced the past year or an increase of 4,139,246 tons over 1949. Strip mine payrolls were 20 per cent higher than in 1949.

All the reports listed are computed from figures of the Pennsylvania Department of Mines.

Report Claims Parks Active In Red Causes In '48

HOLLYWOOD, March 24.—(INS)—A California State Senate report, issued in 1949, made timely again by Larry Parks' statement that he quit the Communist party in 1945, claimed today that the actor was fronting for Red causes as late as 1948.

The report, prepared by State Senator Jack B. Tenney's committee on un-American activities, listed the star as a prominent participant in meetings of Communist front groups in Hollywood and New York in 1947 and 1948.

The committee described him as either a speaker or an honored guest at these gatherings.

Meetings Concerned
Organizations whose public meetings he was said to have taken part in included "The Freedom From Fear Committee," "The Progressive Citizens of America," "The Civil Rights Congress," "The National Negro Congress," and "The Jewish People's Fraternal Order Rehabilitation Fund."

All of the organizations were branded Communist front groups by the Tenney committee.

Parks was said to have been particularly active in the futile campaign to keep the "Hollywood 10" from going to jail for refusing to state before the House un-American activities committee whether they were or ever had been Communists.

The report said that he attended two New York meetings honoring a "Hollywood 10" and, speaking at a "Hollywood 10" rally, he denounced the congressional committee for probing into Red infiltration of the film industry.

America's first successful iron works was built at Lynn, Mass., in 1644.

Sunday Schools Near Close Of Annual Contest

The 1951 edition of the pre-Easter attendance contest conducted jointly by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association and the New Castle Superintendent's Council will soon be history with but one more report to be received in the contest and that of the attendances on Easter Sunday. The final Sunday, if good weather prevails, should bring great gains and perhaps one or two new leaders if teachers and officers work hard.

The seventh report on the contest has just been submitted and reveals no new leaders but plenty of work has been going on among the various schools to maintain their lead. Simpson Methodist Sunday school has been making an excellent showing and has far outdistanced its nearest competitors. No report has been received for the week from Princeton Memorial Presbyterian and schools having belated reports to submit should see that Miss Mary E. Nord of Bessemer gets them in order that they might be computed for the final standings next week.

Cites Increased Tasks Assigned To Red Cross

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN
Goal ..... $52,000
Subscribed ..... 33,140
Need ..... $18,860

Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross is now entering into its final week of the drive with 64% of its goal reached and $18,860 yet to be raised. The next report meeting is scheduled for Friday, March 30; and to achieve success in this campaign, "We must do more than reach our goal—we must exceed it!"—was the statement made today by Fund Chairman L. J. Lewis.

He told of an urgent telegram received from the President of American National Red Cross, E. Roland Harriman, pointing out that the tasks assigned to the Red Cross in the interest of national defense have become far heavier than was anticipated at the time the campaign goal of $85,000,000 was established at a meeting of the board of governors last November. At that time it was assumed the size of the armed forces would average 2,500,000 for the fiscal year 1951-52 and that the fighting in the Korean war would be over by June, 1951.

Since November, however, the national and world crisis has deepened. Plans for minimum defense needs have been repeatedly revised upward and each increase in the size of the armed forces is directly reflected in increased Red Cross expenditures. The presently authorized military force of 3,500,000 by July is already 1,000,000 men over the anticipated strength of last November, and the Defense

Department is beginning to consider a military force of 4,000,000 men.

Individual Responsibility
Harriman asks that all campaign leaders broaden the base of Red Cross support by making every community aware of his individual responsibility for the job. Lewis said that our splendid group of nearly 500 volunteers are doing a praiseworthy job of securing subscriptions from the citizens in both the city and county; it is a job to which they are devoting much time and effort. In the event that you were away from home when the volunteer called—won't you please sit down right now and write your check to the Red Cross? Send it to 39 North Beaver street, New Castle. Do this now and help the Red Cross to meet the obligations placed upon it. None of us knows what is ahead but one thing is certain: This year of 1951 calls for warm hearts. "Today," Chairman Lewis said, "the need is for blood, for service, for funds. It is for these the Red Cross mobilizes the kindness in men's hearts. We must not fail, and with your help the Red Cross will do its job."

New Reduction In Non-Defense Rubber Supplies

WASHINGTON, March 24—(INS)—The rubber industry began today to revise production schedules to conform with the government's latest announcement reducing non-defense supplies of rubber nine per cent. Officials said action of the National Production Authority will force auto makers to eliminate spare tires from new cars and curb output of most other civilian goods made with rubber.

NPA said that the nine per cent cut in non-military rubber supplies will take effect April 1. The order will be issued next week. The agency had hoped to allocate 90,000 tons of new rubber in April but reduced the figure to 82,000 tons because of shut downs at synthetic plants and 40 per cent jump in military requirements.

Report 34 Million Bushels Of Potatoes Dumped In U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(INS)—The Agriculture Department is nursing along another one of those famous American paradoxes.

The mobilization dictators are demanding sacrifice from the nation, ordering cut-backs in many civilian items and pushing farmers to record production this year.

At the same time that these orders for conservation for mobilization go out—the Agriculture Department continues to encourage waste of potatoes.

But it is not the department's own idea. It is compelled to underwrite dumping of potatoes by congressional order—a law conceived in peacetime.

100 Million Bushels Bought

Agriculture officials estimate that by the end of June more than 100 million bushels of 1950 potatoes will have been bought by the government and more than half of these will be thrown away—used as fertilizer and so forth.

Officials say farmers have dumped so far under government sanction, a total of 34 million bushels out of 66 million bought by the government.

As of March 3, farmers in Maine tossed 13 and a quarter million bushels out on fields to rot, farmers in the Red River Valley of North Dakota and Minnesota dumped "just a hair more than that." Smaller amounts were dumped elsewhere.

Dumped 20 Million Bushels

One official estimates that before spring is out, Maine farmers will have dumped almost 20 million bushels out of their 1950 crop of 61 million bushels. That is about one-third the crop of the nation's biggest spud producer.

Under the law, which ends with the 1950 marketing year, farmers sell their potatoes to the government at an average of $1.01 a bushel and then buy them back for a penny a hundred pounds. That is the price support formula.

The 66 million bushels the government has bought so far went into the following uses: 34 million bushels, dumped; 18 million, live-stock feed; four million, school lunches and other federal-state programs; nine million, starch;

Seeks Extension Of Crime Probe

By FRANK B. ALLEN, (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—Sen. Tobey (R) N.H., called for at least a 60-day extension of the Senate Crime Investigation and said legislation to continue the inquiry will be introduced next week.

The outspoken Republican member of the Kefauver committee also indicated he believes that former New York Mayor William O'Dwyer should resign as ambassador to Mexico because of the committee's disclosures.

Tobey at first declined to express an opinion on whether O'Dwyer should resign because the evidence is "in the hands of the President."

But when asked what he would do if he were President, Tobey replied: "You know what I'd do if I were President."

USMC Changes Policy Concerning Enlisting Of Ex-Service Men

Rowe, NCO, in charge of the New Castle Marine recruiting station announced today that the Marine Corps has set up a policy whereby men with prior active duty in another branch of the armed service, may be enlisted in the Marine Corps with the rank of private first class.

Previously anyone not having prior service in the Marine Corps would have been enlisted as a private.

Wherry Hurls New Charges At Administration

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(INS)—The Senate's top Republican hurled a charge of "moral bankruptcy" at the administration today and asked the nation to decide whether President Truman should get a blank check for posting U. S. troops abroad.

GOP leader Wherry, Neb., backing up a move to decide the issue in favor of Congress, went to the voters last night on a radio hook-up with the assertion that Mr. Truman has proved the administration "immoral" by his stand on the troops question.

"Totally Alien Doctrine" Wherry said the President's "amazing claim that he alone has absolute power to commit U. S. armed forces anywhere, in any number... is a doctrine 'totally alien to the American concept of government'."

In the Senate the Nebraska declared that upper house resolutions on the matter should be scrapped in favor of a bill which would put the force of law behind congressional prerogatives in troop assignments.

He charged that administration supporters are proposing an avalanche of amendments to the resolutions in an effort to "confuse the Senate" and scuttle the role of the lawmakers in their important phase of national defense.

But Sen. Connally (D) Tex., chairman of the committee which approved the resolutions, forecast failure for the drive to have them consigned to the wastebasket.

Displaced Family Introduced Friday At First Baptist

At the First Baptist church, during the Good Friday evening service at 7:45 o'clock, the Wasslew family, father, mother and son, displaced persons sponsored by the church, were introduced to the membership at the service.

The family arrived here Friday morning by 8:16 train from New York City, after a stormy ocean trip from Bremerhaven, Germany, of ten days.

Having been notified by David Cassart, of the Church of World Services of New York, about the family's arrival time in this city, Dr. Will Gordon, interim pastor, and Paul D. Weller, a number of his committee met the family.

The Wasslews are temporarily located at the Fountain Inn, while arrangements are being made for an apartment and furnishings provided for their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wasslew are Bulgarians. The latter was in prison camp for nine years, the former for six years.

Youth Will Reenact Fatal Chicago Attack

CHICAGO, March 24.—(INS)—A 22-year-old youth who fatally beat a 65-year-old man because an argument with his wife made him "angry at the world" will reenact the attack today in Chicago.

Ray Hennemann, alias Tom Bruno, told police his slugging of Otto Vollenweider, a milk company employee was completely without motive.

He said he had quarreled with 21-year-old wife, Florence, last Sunday because she insisted on "tagging along" with him instead of letting him "go out with the boys."

Hennemann told how he left his wife sitting in a tavern and later struck Vollenweider with his fists, leaving him bleeding on the sidewalk. The dairy worker died Tuesday at St. Joseph's hospital.

Hennemann gave himself up yesterday at the Braidwood, Ill., home of his wife's relatives after he learned that he was sought by police. He also admitted the beating of another man, 48-year-old Joseph Vieracker, the same morning. Vieracker, a cab driver, still is in serious condition today at County hospital.

State Capital

Fact Finding Body May End

No Appropriation Is Recommended; Other State News

HARRISBURG, Mar. 24.—(INS)—The future of the Joint State Government Commission, interim fact finding body for the legislature, is in doubt. Governor Fine made no recommendation for an appropriation for the agency in his 1951-53 budget. The legislature will have to find the needed money—upwards of $200,000—if it wishes to continue the commission. Senate Minority Leader John H. Dent has initiated a campaign aimed at continuing the commission. The JSGC's main job is to round up facts and figures on possible legislation as a guide for lawmakers. The agency does its work between sessions and submits reports when the General Assembly convenes. Unless legislators vote to prolong its life, the commission will die May 31, the end of the current biennium. The body has a permanent staff headed by Director Guy W. Davis charged with research and clerical work. Members of both Houses are appointed to serve on the various sub-committees, each delegated specific investigations in connection with the state government. The 1949 assembly appropriated $200,000 to underwrite commission expenses and since then it has been granted a $50,000 deficiency fund. Dent claims the JSGC saves the state money in the long run because of the value of its reports. The agency was born 14 years ago. Some lawmakers favor making the commission a permanent arm of the state government.

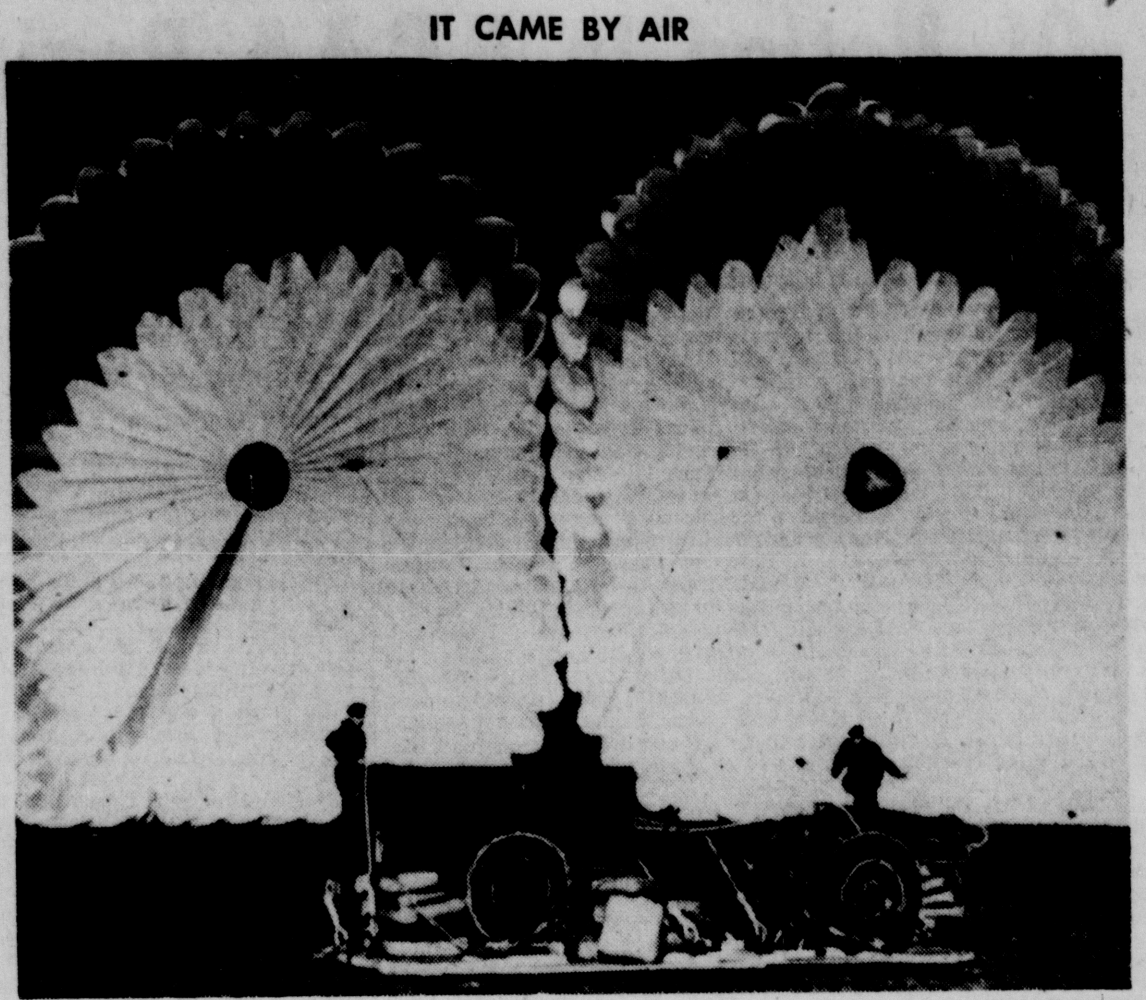

Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, long a member of the Senate, in adventuring to let his sympathies get the upper hand just before he introduced Gov. John S. Fine to the joint session of the Assembly for his tax message. It was good for a hearty laugh. Peering out of the over the speaker's rostrum, Wood rumbled: "Gentlemen of the Senate be at ease." This left 208 members of the lower chamber still at attention while senators relaxed. Wood joined the laughter while reminding representatives they too could take it easy until the governor arrived.

Legislators will be moving into high gear now that Governor Fine's budgetary and tax programs have been submitted. The primary existence of the General Assembly is built around the governor's fiscal reports. Out of it will originate all important legislation for the next two years, save in a few instances where appropriations are not needed. The assembly is stepping up its weekly sessions from three to four days starting next week, and if an early June adjournment is in view, a five-day week probably will be fixed starting in May. By working overtime, lawmakers could clear their desks of important business by the deadline. However, re-apportionment of the commonwealth's congressional districts is expected to be a stumbling block to an early adjournment. Under law, Pennsylvania must lop off three of its present 33 congressmen based on preliminary census reports. Neither party wants to lose the posts. The decision must be made in the Republican-dominated state legislature. It is possible that Democrats could lose more than three congressmen if Republicans gerrymander the districts. The re-apportionment law drawn by the Assembly is based on official federal census figures which have not yet been received by Sen. G. Graybill Diehm (R) Lancaster, chairman of the committee.

If the controversial loyalty oath bill is passed, Pennsylvania may see a repeat of the California case where more than 100 instructors and professors were discharged from state-supported colleges for refusing to take a similar oath required by law. Pennsylvania supports Pennsylvania State college, 14 State Teachers colleges, and allocates some funds to many larger institutions.

R.F.C. Probers Have Only Touched Surface Says Jones

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(INS)—Former RFC Chairman Jesse Jones expressed doubt today that Senate influence probes have more than "scratched the surface" and raised the possibility he may be called as a witness in concerted drive to junk the huge lending agency.

The Houston, Tex., financier who was replaced as Secretary of Commerce in 1945 by Henry A. Wallace made his views known in a letter to Sen. Byrd (D) Va., author of a bill to liquidate the multi-billion dollar RFC.

Byrd said he has been assured that banking committee hearings on his bill "will begin very shortly."

Jones, endorsing the Byrd measure, said he was "shocked" by the "exposures" made by the RFC investigating subcommittee under Sen. Fulbright (D) Ark.

Meanwhile, a White House stenographer whose $9.50 a week wage has figured in the RFC probe gave the lie to reports that she had been fired by reporting for work after a Florida vacation.

The stenographer, Mrs. Loretta Young, is the wife of E. Merle Young, who testified at length before the Fulbright group on reports that he received substantial fees in return for his alleged efforts to influence the granting of RFC loans.

The coat—a natural royal pastel mink—was paid for according to testimony by Joseph Rosenbaum, Washington attorney with whom Young was said to have been associated.

Proposed To Junk RFC
Byrd's proposal to junk RFC has been referred to the banking committee under Sen. Maybank (D) S. C., who also declares that the "American people want abolition of the RFC."

This move is apart from current hearings before the Senate expenditures committee under Sen. McClellan (D) Ark., on President Truman's proposal to replace the five-man directorate of RFC with a single administrator.

McClellan has asked the President to pigeonhole the plan on grounds that it "is not an adequate remedy for the evils that are apparent" in the agency.

Sen. Capelhart (R) Ind., is author of a resolution to defeat the plan as a first step in killing off RFC itself. The reorganization would become effective April 20 unless the Senate or House disapproves it.

McClellan said that by expressing willingness to delay appointment of the proposed new administrator Mr. Truman would pigeonhole the plan until Congress decides what to do about working out a "full solution" for RFC.

Spreading Fire Causes Big Damage In Canadian Town

SARNIA, Ont., March 24.—(INS)—Two men were reported injured in a fire which already has destroyed five stores and spread to three other places in downtown Sarnia, Ont., today.

Damage estimated at $200,000 already has been caused. Authorities said the blaze broke out in the furnace room of the Sarnia pet shop on Front Street and quickly spread to adjoining two-story buildings.

A score of persons in upstairs apartments fled from the buildings. Two of the occupants, Crist Frangos and Nick Kerazidos, were injured by broken glass.

Police Officers In Numbers Racket To Get Evidence

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 24.—(INS)—State police yesterday tried their hand at numbers writing, and they were pretty good at it, too. But they only stayed in business long enough to gather evidence.

The troopers, in a raid on a downtown Pittsburgh Smoke Shop, said they took half a dozen telephone calls from numbers players and also accommodated a half dozen more persons in person, with none of the players wise to the fact they were police.

Orlando F. Raimondo, 33, proprietor of the smoke shop, was arrested on a lottery charge.

'Flying Housewife' Married Man Who Made World Flight

LONDON, March 24.—(INS)—Mrs. Prudence Richarda Morrow-Tait, Britain's "flying housewife", is married to the man with whom she made a flight around the world that took a year and a day and resulted in the birth of a baby. They were married on March 20.

The spouse is Michael Edward Townsend, her navigator on the adventurous trip. He is a Cambridge university graduate. Townsend was named co-respondent in a divorce suit brought on Feb. 2 by Norman Robert Morrow-Tait, who was awarded $1,400 damages after testifying that his wife told him on her return that she was pregnant and added: "You bloody fool—the baby is not yours."

Morrow-Tait's attorney submitted letters showing that the couple fell in love in Calcutta during the global trip. The world flight, which attracted great attention because of crackups and long delays, was completed in August, 1949.

Motor Overheats On Refrigerator

Damage of $50 was done when a motor on a refrigerator in the home of Charles Sumner, 333 E. North street, became overheated at 9:12 p. m. Friday. Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink reports. Firemen were summoned to the scene by an alarm from box 23. Fourth ward firemen were called to the corner of East Washington and Pearson streets to extinguish a fire in an auto owned by Elmer Whiteman of 323 Cascade street. The damage was slight.

THE TRAINMEN'S SIDE DO YOU KNOW

MARCH 15, 1951, marked two years since the Trainmen first presented their modest requests for wage and rule improvements. It took six months to secure the first meeting with the R.R. negotiators and they admitted they could offer no binding agreement without first going back to their bosses for approval of any agreement. Their only answer to anything asked for by the Trainmen was NO. Twenty months later we were at the same place except for the Government control to keep us from striking. Is it any wonder Trainmen are "sick"?

Who ran out on our local members during the big November snow? Several were asked to shovel snow and clean switches so trains could be switched and dispatched. Many worked 16 hours a day on snow clearing and have not been paid. Is this honest labor relations?

Four years ago a Labor Board hearing a rule case recommended, and it was accepted by the railroads, that passenger men should have one-half cost of uniforms paid by the company. Few of the railroads did this, and they only if the men would give up something else for it.

A passenger brakeman must buy his own uniform, $52.00; Cap $4.00; Overcoat $50.00 on the average, and needs a winter and summer uniform, about $150.00 worth, and also pay his own board and room away from home on a wage of $10.89 a day, including the 5 cents an hour awarded by the President of the United States.

Since the government is operating (?) the railroads, why are we not given the improved conditions most other government employees enjoy, such as five-day week and sick leave?

Correction—In our ad of March 17th we mistook the wording of a press release—The medal was awarded Dr. Steelman by the American Arbitration Association, not the railroads. We wish to correct our statement.

Not Longer --- Not Heavier --- Only What the Law Provides

The usual anti-truck propaganda is under way again . . . with the usual mis-statements—exaggerated claims—and downright falsification of the truth.

Truckers of Pennsylvania are asking for nothing more than a practical application of the law which has been upon the books for a quarter of a century.

Back in the days when trucks were not designed as efficiently as they are now, the gross weight limit was set at 62,000. But a legal sneaker was put into the law which made it impossible to have over 45,000 gross weight unless a four-wheel hitch was put on back of a single truck.

Modern engineering has developed the tandem axle which lightens the impact upon the highway, has greater braking area and is generally safer and more efficient.

The truckers ask to haul the present legal load of 62,000 pounds gross weight on the modern, efficient tandem axle truck.

But the opponents of progress would have you believe they want to increase lengths, widths, heights and weights.

Tain't so, neighbor.

Floor Fans Will See Cream Of Nation In NCAA Regional Finals Tonight

Illinois Five To Battle Kentucky, Kansas State vs Oklahoma A.&M.

By KEN OPSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

An Illinois team that entered the NCAA basketball tournament a year ahead of schedule plays favored Kentucky at Madison Square Garden tonight for the right to meet the Kansas State-Oklahoma A.&M. winner for the National collegiate championship.

The East-West title game is scheduled for Minneapolis on Tuesday. But tonight a crowd of approximately 15,000 will witness the Eastern finals in New York and 10,500 other fans will jam the Kansas City Municipal auditorium for the Western finals.

Illinois Young Team

Illinois coach Harry Combes is somewhat surprised to find his team within two victories of basketball's pinnacle. He says: "We've got three sophomores and one junior on our first five. We are a year away from becoming a great team."

"We'll have to compensate with fight to make up what we lack in finesse if we are to beat Kentucky."

The last time Combes saw an outfit from the land of fast basketball teams and beautiful horses it was disastrous. Kentucky gave the Illini their worst trouncing in history two years ago, 76-47, in the NCAA tournament.

Kansas State appeared to have the edge on Oklahoma A.&M's defensive marvels.

Brigham Young Loses

Coach Jack Gardner's Manhat-tan, Kan., crew presents the Ag-gies with the undesirable task of guarding eight men. Gardner ro-tates his players in an assembly line fashion which has kept the Wildcats' scoring balances and the opposition baffled.

Gardner used eight men last night and they all scored as Kan-sas State eliminated Brigham Young's national invitational cham-pions, 64-54. Guard Bob Rousey's 13 points topped the winners.

Oklahoma A.&M still seems to have the knack of winning the close games. The Aggies whipped the University of Washington, 61 to 57, last night. Only the night previous the Missouri Valley king-pins ousted Montana State, 50-46.

Stockholders Will Pick New Director Board

Annual Election
Next Wednesday

New Castle Citizens Baseball Inc., stockholders will meet at 8 o'clock next Wednesday night at the New Penn hotel for the annual election of board of director mem-bers.

The board is being increased from nine to 15 this year. Action asking for 15 directors was taken last Wednesday at the courthouse meeting.

Twenty-five prominent citizens of New Castle have been nomi-nated. All of the men have expressed a desire to serve and are all dyed-in-the-wool baseball fans.

Zedalis Will Report

President Al Scarazzo of the New Castle Indians today received a letter from pitcher Stanley Zedalis stating that he will report here April 15 for the first work-out. Zedalis last year won 8 and lost 11. His home is in Orlando, Fla.

Zedalis, Wagner and Rossman are the only pitchers from the 1950 team asked to report this year. Cleveland has sent George Becka to higher league, and Wash-ington is sending Herb Churchill to their Charlotte Class B club.

Manager Al Milnar will seek several young hurlers from the Cleveland Indians farm-club train-ing camp at Daytona Beach next month. Milnar will also scour the material for a strong third sacker.

Olympians Top Lakers 108-88

(By International News Service)

Three first-round playoffs reach a climatic stage today in the Na-tional Basketball Association's best-of-three-game eliminations.

Minneapolis muffed a chance to clinch its set with Indianapolis last night, losing 108 to 88. That gave them a victory apiece, mak-ing tonight's contest at Minneap-olis the pivotal affair.

Rochester and Fort Wayne in the western division also are even going into tonight's rubber game at Rochester, New York, which en-tertains Boston this afternoon, leads the Celtics, 1 to 0.

Syracuse already has clinched a second-round berth with two straight wins over Philadelphia.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

DISTRICT GAME PROTECTOR W. J. BRION, of Kittanning, reports that January has certainly proven the value of standing grain purchases made from the Game Fund. From personal observation and reports from farm-game cooperators, wildlife of all kinds is visiting such food plots. In some places wild game has consumed all of the grain. Deer, squirrels, raccoons and ringnecks have used the food areas more than other game species. In December Game Protector William C. Matthews picked up a female wood duck killed on a highway near Mt. Pleasant. This was a late-season traveler, evidently headed for the Mississippi flyway. Attached to the "woody's" leg was a band bearing a serial number. U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service reported that the duck was banded September 1, 1950, at Stevens Brook, Franklin county, Vermont. Harold E. Russell, Perry county game protector, says that wildlife has been responding to artificial feeding in his district in a great way. Said Russell: "There was little natural food available hereabouts this winter, and squirrels, grouse and even deer are coming regularly to corn in the wire basket feeders. We recently counted, at one time, seven squirrels, a grouse, four mourning doves, two cardinals and six deer dining at a basket feeder located within 50 feet of our house. In my district there are several covies of quail that are feeding on cracked corn and scratch grain put out by sportsmen."

TANKFUL OF BROWN TROUT from Bellefonte hatchery will arrive at the New Wilmington post office at 3:30 p.m. March 30, for stocking of the Little Nesheannock creek, according to a communica-tion received from the hatchery by Herman Steinbrink, past president of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association. . . . Johnny Hayden, former New Castle, now a resident of Alhambra, Calif., forwards a copy of the Los Angeles Evening Herald & Express containing accounts of Yankee exhibition game with the Hollywood Stars, which was won by the Yankees, 5-1, before 22,355 onlookers. . . . Mrs. Jack Herbert of Miami, also recently forwarded a Miami sports sheet, containing activities of majorities in training in Florida. . . . According to George Davis of the LA Herald-Express, Branch Rickey has hopes of raising the Pirates from last place in 1950 to first place in 1954. . . . Local gunners will have some birds to shoot at next fall, 450 cock-pheasants having been stocked in various Lawrence county areas. More are to arrive, Dick Hooper reports. . . . Dick Francis, local angler, is yearning for warm weather so he can drop a line in the Shesango river.

Tourney Title Play Matches Morellas, Hi-Landers At Y

Morellas defend their Y. M. C. A. junior championship tonight at the against the Hi-Landers in the sixth annual playoff series.

Morellas encountered a little difficulty winning their opening round game and also their semi-final contest.

Union High pressed the defend-ing champs all the way before bowing out, 51-52. Morellas trailed in the ball game, 46-39 in the final quarter before coming on to win.

The Lepus were handled easily, 65-31, in the quarter-finals, but Biondi's (New Castle Under-grads) proved stubborn and fell shy by only seven points, 53-60.

Morellas have been paced by Walford, Fiorante and Reed offensively.

Hi-Landers Improve
Hi-Landers have improved every game in subduing O. Le-vines, 44-37, Ellwood 48-37, and Micks, 52-38.

A standard two-three zone has been the key to the Hi-Lander success, limiting the opposition to a 37-point average.

Ex-Cane stars Duke Vitale and Paul Bucker contribute the scoring punch for the Hi-Landers and also form a vital part of the zone defense. Bucker serves as a board man and Vitale a "worrier".

Boyd, Horcher and Bucky Tate will complete the Hi-Lander line-up.

Consolation honors will go to the Micks-Biondis winner in a game to be played previous to the finals.

Julius McCoy Breaks Tourney Scoring Mark

Farrell's Julius McCoy has added the WPIAL A tournament scoring mark to his growing list of honors.

The willowy forward, this year in the WPIAL playoffs, scored 64 points on 23 field goals and 18 fouls. The previous high was 59 held by Bill McWhinney, who took the honors for Cannonsburg in 1940. McWhinney later starred for Westminster.

The all-time WPIAL tournament scoring mark is held by Ken Cathcart of New Wilmington who tallied 73 points in the B playoff games in 1943.

Marion Lampkins of Farrell, finished eighth in tournament scoring with 30.

Bratton-Gavilan Fight May 18

Winner May Meet
Billy Graham

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—(INS)—The International Boxing Club ad-vanced its solution today to the muddled welterweight cham-pionship situation.

Matchmaker Al Weill announced he will appear before the New York State Athletic Commission next Friday to ask championship status for the May 18 Johnny Brat-ton-Kid Gavilan bout.

His petition will carry the pro-viso that the winner meet chal-lenger Billy Graham within 60 days.

Bratton already is recognized as champion by the National Boxing Association by virtue of his split decision over Charlie Fusari in Chicago.

Bratton, Fusari, Gavilan and Graham all were named by the New York Commission as con-tenders with equal status when Rey Robinson left the 147-pound divi-sion to become middleweight champ.

Giosa-Davis Fight To Draw Ultimatum Given To Ike Williams

NEW YORK, March 24.—(INS)—Eddie Giosa, blimp Philadelphia welterweight, proved more than an adequate substitute today for lightweight champion Ike Wil-liams in the eastern unveiling of California hopeful John L. Davis.

Giosa, substituted when Wil-liams claimed a shoulder injury 36 hours before the bout, fought Da-vis to a ten-round draw last night at Madison Square Garden before a slim 4,000 fans.

Davis weighed 136 to Giosa's 145.

The Richmond, Calif., fighter showed more willingness than pol-ish. Although listed as one of five fighters Williams may choose to meet in defense of his title, Da-vis' Garden showing thoroughly deflated his reputation.

Williams' routout thoroughly an-gered New York State Athletic Commission chairman Eddie Egan, who notified the Camden, N. J., champion he will not be allowed to fight in New York prior to his scheduled title defense in May.

Egan already has said the 135-pound king's title will be forfeited if he does not go through with the title bout. Davis is listed as a contender, along with Percy Bas-sett of Philadelphia, Jimmy Carter of New York, Del Flanagan of St. Paul and Art Aragon of Los An-ges.

Off last night's showing, the re-luctant Williams doubtless would prefer the unripe Davis.

Some species of cactus have en-larged roots for underground water storage.

TIME FOR SPRING TONICS AND SPRING OVERHAULS

Remember the days when you took sulphur and molasses as a spring tonic? If you can forget the taste you might remember it was mighty fine stuff for spring fever.

It's time again for spring tonics not only for humans but for cars. All that winter driving in snow and slush has given your car a bit of dose of lassitude. It's time for an overhaul and a spring tonic for the family car.

April Draft Call Reduced

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(INS)—The army on Friday reduced its draft call for April from 80,000 to 40,000 men with an announcement that enlistments have exceeded expectations.

The announcement also stated that American casualties in Korea have been 16,000, less than estimates which were based on the earlier phases of the fighting.

The draft reduction means that 40,000 men will be drafted in April as compared to 80,000 each in January, February and March. The army's draft call for May still stands at 60,000.

The army said that new enlistments in January and February totaled 46,000, as against an anticipated total for the two months of only 20,000.

Unofficial reports are that the army now has about 1,400,000 men and has a ceiling of less than 1,600,000.

An official announcement earlier in the week said that the four armed services have more than 2,900,000 men, against a goal for this year of 3,500,000.

In addition to drafting 40,000 men in April, the army said it will call to active duty 815 reserve officers and 5,516 reserve enlisted men.

The announcement said: "The shift in the April selective service goals does not materially affect the figures submitted to congress in connection with the universal military training and service program."

King Henry VII of England dressed his jockeys in colors as early as 1530.

Alliance Church To Have Sunrise Meet

Plans have been completed by the pastor, Rev. George Jones, of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, for the annual Sun Rise Easter service to be conducted in the church, Sunday at 6:30 a.m.

The church is undergoing a redecorating program and worshipers will enter the newly-painted sanctuary Sunday morning, being the first to worship in the church since the redecoration work.

A special program of music has been planned with Avery Rigby, Jr., and other church soloists being heard during the program. Prior to the time of testimony and prayer period, the pastor will bring a special Easter meditation. The service is open to all who wish to attend.

Other services of the day include Bible school at 9:30 a.m. and morning worship at 10:45 when Rev. Jones will speak on "He Is Risen." The service will include dedication of babies and the reception of new members. The evening services are at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. with the pastors evening subject being "The Resurrection of Christ is the Pattern of the Believers Resurrection."

Plans are being completed for a baptismal service to be held in the church in the future.

First Methodist Easter Program

At the 11 o'clock service on Easter Sunday in the First Methodist church, corner of North and Jefferson streets, Dr. A. Culmer Schultz, minister, will preach on "The Easter Faith." Easter music will be sung by the church and children's choir under the direction of Edwin Lewis, organist and director of music. The church soloists, Mrs. Helen Felch, soprano; Mrs. Agnes O'Neill, soprano; Earl Hammond, tenor; and Samuel McCreary, bass, will be heard with the choir in the anthems, "Sanctus," by Gounod, "Christ is Risen," a traditional Bohemian melody arranged by Carl F. Mueller, "In Joseph's Lovely Garden," traditional Spanish arranged by Clarence Dickinson, and "Lo! the Tomb is Empty," by Broome. Mr. Lewis will play organ compositions by Bach, DuBois, and Clausmann.

A large number of new members will also be received into the fellowship of the congregation on Sunday morning.

Union Baptismal Service Planned At Hoover Heights

Plans have been completed for a union baptismal service to be conducted Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Hoover Heights Christian and Missionary Alliance church, South New Castle. Uniting to make the service possible is the Sampson Alliance church and the Washington Union church.

Rev. Edward Mink of Ellwood City will be the afternoon speaker.

The annual sunrise program of the South New Castle church will take place Sunday at 7 a.m., with Rev. Johannides in charge. Special music and a sermon will be featured. At 10:45 Rev. Johannides will speak on "The Proof, Power and Pledge of the Resurrection." Certificates will be presented to 33 who had perfect attendance over the past seven Sundays and 18 honorable mention certificates will be given. Four families will receive perfect attendance certificates.

Serving Aboard U.S. Destroyer

The Rush has participated in the United Nations naval shore bombardment of Yongde Gap and other communist targets in Korea.

Schuster, who entered the naval service April 24, 1947, received his recruit training at the U. S. naval training center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 24.—Pure, unadulterated glamour is dying out in Hollywood.

Time was when screen sirens like Theda Bara and Pola Negri and the rest ruled the roost in filmland. Today, however, movie fans want their glamour spiked with comedy and the modern screen beauty must cultivate a sense of humor.

So glamour girls are becoming comedienne. They are photographed in undignified positions, with their hair mussed and in shabby costumes. Marlene Dietrich, for example, played a broad comedy role in "A Foreign Affair" while Jane Russell was involved in several hilarious slapstick chases with Bob Hope in "The Paleface".

Now the most glamorous girl in pictures, Hedy Lamarr, is making a movie with Hope in which she drives a hook-and-ladder fire engine through the crowded streets of Tangier with Bob hanging on the ladder for dear life, bops the comedian over the head with a vase and is slugged into unconsciousness by Hope with a terrific right to the jaw.

All of this occurs in Paramount's "My Favorite Spy" and when the picture is released Hedy will be admired for a lot more than her glamorous beauty.

Jane Wyman and Alexis Smith are two other glamour dolls who go all out on the comedy in the forthcoming Bing Crosby picture, "Here Comes the Groom." Among other things, the girls stage a real Pier 6 brawl on the lawn of a luxurious estate during a wedding ceremony.

Joan Fontaine, Gene Tierney, Barbara Stanwyck, Greer Garson, Deborah Kerr, Lana Turner and Paulette Goddard are other movie queens who have found that comedy really pays off at the box-office.

WEDDING QUESTIONS

"Is there any restriction on having three bridesmaids in addition to a maid-of-honor? If this is permissible, how should they walk in the procession? (2) Do you think one hired car will be sufficient for the bridal groom, best man and maid-of-honor? Most of the men have their own cars so we will have ample means of transportation. (3) Must I serve dinner after a 5 o'clock wedding or will a buffet supper be permissible?"

Answer: You may have three bridesmaids if you desire in addition to your maid-of-honor. They may walk thus: One bridesmaid alone, followed by two walking together, the maid-of-honor next walking alone. Or, if you prefer, all may walk in single file—a new form in the wedding procession. If you will have three ushers, you may, if you prefer, have the bridesmaids and ushers walk together.

(2) A car should call for the bridesmaids and the maid-of-honor. The bride and her father should go to the church together a short time after the arrival of the bride's mother. The groom and the best man go to the church in either one of their own cars or a hired car, as they prefer.

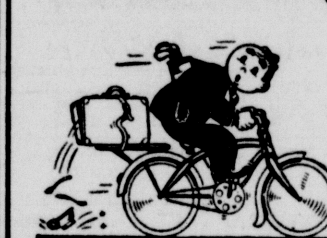

(3) You may serve a buffet supper after your five o'clock wedding.

Question: My husband and I have been asked to be chaperons at a school prom. We are in our mid-twenties and would like to know if we are considered old enough for this. What are our duties and would it be permissible for us to dance?

Answer: Yes, you would be considered old enough to act as chaperons at such a prom. Your duties are merely nominal, since few if any such dances need policing or require the services of a bouncer. You may dance.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D), Texas, has presided over the House of Representatives longer than any other speaker. The old mark of 3,056½ days was established by Henry Clay between 1811 and 1825.

(Special To The News)

BEAVER FALLS, March 24.—Three Geneva ex-GIs—one from each branch of the service—will break ground for the college's $400,000 men's dormitory Tuesday, April 3. The ceremonies are to begin at 11 a. m. at the north end of the campus.

Dr. Charles M. Lee, president, is to be in charge of the program marking the start of work on the three-story memorial to Geneva men and women of all wars, and especially the 42 men who lost their lives in World War II.

Robert M. Young of Pittsburgh, Geneva '05, president of the board of trustees, will deliver a short address. Other details of the program, including names of the three veterans who are to take turns at the symbolic spade, will be announced sometime next week.
